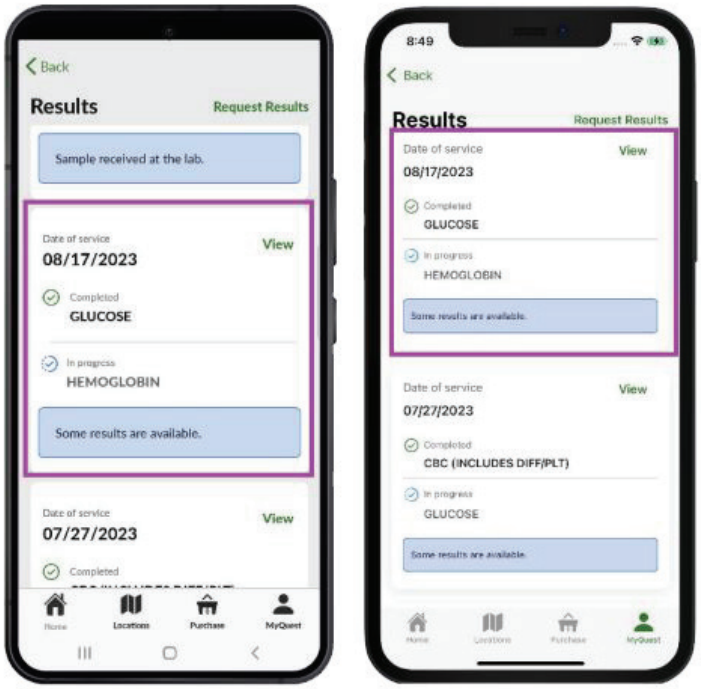
Get more from your MyQuest® account!

Your MyQuest account is a powerful tool to help manage your personal health history. Sign in every time you're ready to make an appointment, view results, or pay your bill for a time-saving, personalized experience.

We're improving results delivery. Here's what you'll see in the coming weeks:



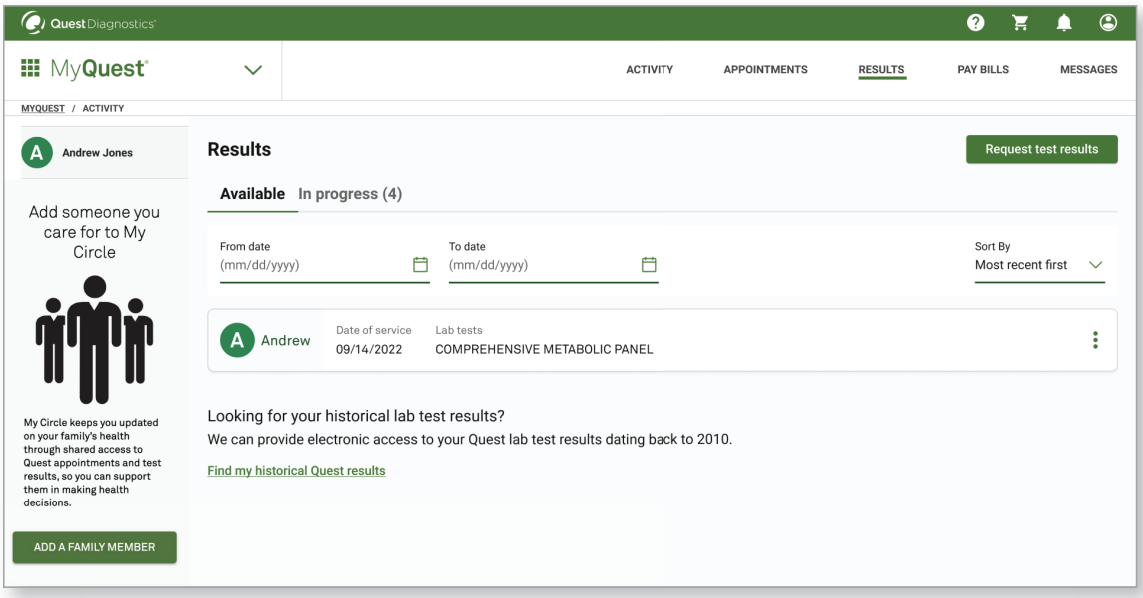
Individual test results delivery

We know how important it is to receive your lab test results quickly. When your doctor has several tests on your order, it's difficult to wait until all the tests are completed to see any results.

- Now, with individual results delivery, we will share individual results to your MyQuest account as soon as possible
- Results that are in process will display with an "In progress" status

Historic results delivery

Looking for your Quest test results from a few years ago? Tracking trends and having the ability to share a more complete health picture with your doctors is a benefit of always choosing Quest!



Access historic results

- Sign in to MyQuest from your online browser. (Or you can scan the QR Code to the right to access MyQuest.) Select the Results option to display the Results page
- Scroll past the "Request test results" button, going to the bottom of your results list. Tap or click the "Find my historical Quest results" link. Your results from as far back as 2010 will display in your account in 24-48 hours. If you don't see the "Find my historical Quest results" link at the bottom of your results list, congratulations: your account is already up to date!
- View our MyQuest FAQs (by scanning the QR Code to the right) for additional help and other tips
